

SPEEDING AUTOS MEET WITH DOOM

Machine Skidded At Pittsburg This Morning And Hurlled Helen Williams Of Allegheny To Her Death.

MAN KILLED IN RACES YESTERDAY

Rex Rainersten Was On His 13th Mile In The Fifty Mile Derby When One Of The Front Tires Came Off At A Sharp Turn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—Helen Williams of Allegheny was killed and four others seriously injured, early this morning, when their automobile skidded in turning a corner and the occupants were thrown against a telegraph pole. Following upon the heels of yesterday's terrible accident which cost Rex Rainersten his life at the Brums Island, this latest catastrophe has aroused the public to an appreciation of the large element of danger that keeps constant company with the pastime.

Details of Monday's Tragedy.
Rainersten was 35 years old, and president of the Automobile Roadster Co. of this city. He died of a fractured skull while being taken to the hospital.

Walter Christy, 26 years old, of 518 West Eighteenth street, New York city, who was one of the drivers in the Vanderbilt cup races at Mineola, Long Island, fractured his right arm and sustained scalp wounds and bruises of the body. It is also feared he has been internally injured.

Clarence Dutton, who was mechanic for Rainersten and was riding with him at the time, received injuries to the spine that are serious, besides bruises and cuts. Dutton lives in Allegheny.

Policeman Frank Farnol, of Allegheny, was struck by one of the flying cars and hurled about 50 feet. He was badly cut and bruised. All the injured are in St. John's hospital, Allegheny.

How Rainersten Was Killed.

Rainersten was driving in a race called the 50-mile derby and was on the thirteenth mile, when at a turn one of the front tires came off and the machine turned over. Rainersten and Dutton were caught beneath the car, with a score of other contestants shot by. Women screamed and fainted. Crowds swarmed over the track and the race had to be stopped.

Assistance was soon at hand and it was found that the two men had been caught under the car. Rainersten was unconscious, but Dutton was able to direct the rescuers in the moving of the machine. The apparently lifeless body of Rainersten was borne to the clubhouse, where it was found he had a fractured skull, and he was started for the hospital, but died before reaching there.

Christy Hits Wrecked Car.
The wrecked car was left at the edge of the track and, after order had been restored, Walter Christy attempted to make a new track record for a mile in a new 140-horse power car. Christy was cautioned to beware of the wrecked car at the turn and had circled the track once when he signalled the timers to take his time.

Christy crossed the line at a speed that could hardly be estimated. The noise of his machine drowned the voice of the starter. He ran into the back stretch and approached the wrecked car at a speed that carried him too far out. The crowd in the grandstand rose to its feet, there were cries and shrieks and, with the noise of a powder mill explosion, Christy's car hit the obstruction on the track fairly head on. The big racer bounded fully 50 feet in the air, and Christy was hurled like a catapult a long distance ahead of it. As he was thrown from the machine the steering wheel caught him across the stomach, and it is from this it is feared he has sustained internal injuries.

As Christy struck the ground the machine, which had hurled the wreck, came down on him and he lay buried among a mass of wreckage, from which he was taken and sent to the hospital.

Policeman Farnol was guarding the wrecked car and was hurt by the tonnage, that flew in his direction when the collision came.

DREDGE TURNED TURTLE WHILE CREW SLUMBERED

Two Men Were Drowned And Seven Others Including Milwaukee's Chief Engineer Had Narrow Escape.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 10.—Two men were drowned and seven others, all of Milwaukee, were rescued from death when the "Sand Sucker," owned in Milwaukee, turned turtle in the river here at four o'clock this morning. The dead are August Miller, aged thirty-five, a dredge hand of Milwaukee and John Cody, aged twenty-seven, a dredge hand of Milwaukee.

Among the rescued were Captain John Monaghan of Milwaukee, Chief Engineer W. E. Hooker of Milwaukee and four deck hands. The men were in their bunks and were caught like rats when the sand-sucker began to sink. They had a terrible struggle for life and the bodies of the men were badly bruised and covered with blood. The loss of the boat amounts to about $12,000 with no insurance.

Watch Carpenters Sore at Ohio Senators Because They Exposed Watch Trust.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 10.—In joint convention the Kentucky Optical association and the retail jeweler associations of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky assembled at the Grand hotel today for a three-day session. The objects of the convention are the exchange of business ideas, technical helps, methods of maintaining and equalizing price levels, and opposition to the parcel post and mail order houses.

It is reported that the convention will adopt a resolution censuring Senators Foraker and Dick for their "desertion and betrayal of the Ohio watch manufacturers and their exposure of the cause of the watch trust." The feeling among the jewelers against Senator Foraker in particular is pronounced, and the resolution, it is said, will be of a most drastic character.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Receptions and reunions were the features of today at the forty-first annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the conventions of the various auxiliary organizations. Incoming trains added thousands to the host of Union veterans of the civil war who had previously arrived, and forty thousand is now regarded as a conservative estimate of the number of strangers who will be in Saratoga this week. Preparations are about completed for the big parade tomorrow, and if the weather is favorable this feature of the encampment program will undoubtedly be as successful as the big parades of former years. Governor Hughes and many other notables have already arrived or will be here tonight in time to review the procession tomorrow.

Record Number of Applications For Naturalization Papers Filed in New York Yesterday.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 10.—More than 1,100 persons applied for first citizenship papers in the naturalization bureau of the United States court yesterday, a record number. Just what caused this unheard of rush was a matter for much speculation about the federal building. Many of the applicants were Russian Jews, and the fact that yesterday was a Jewish holiday may have something to do with it. However, all of the crowd of 1,100 were not Jews. All nationalities were represented.

LIGHTNING-ROD CRUSADE BY STATE FIRE MARSHAL

T. M. Purtell Believes That Big Item Of Fire
Loss On Farms May Be Materially Reduced.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 10.—Every farmer should equip his buildings with lightning rods, for these instruments not only aid in protecting rural property from disastrous bolts but statistics show that while almost all the fires in two country districts are caused by lightning, few buildings equipped with proper lightning conductors are burned. This is the substance of a special bulletin issued by T. M. Purtell, Wisconsin state fire marshal, whose business it is to study the cause and methods of prevention of fire losses. He has made a careful investigation of the subject of fires in rural districts and finds that most of these are caused by the buildings being struck by lightning.

The office of state fire marshal was created by the last legislature and the department immediately began its work of studying the causes of fires on farms. It was found that in the first twenty days of the department's history there occurred forty farm fires and twenty-nine of these were caused by lightning. It was also found that fires set by bolts of lightning were more disastrous than others, in such cases the buildings so ignited being practically totally destroyed. The cost of equipping a building with effective conductors is so small and the resultant freedom from loss so great, says Mr. Purtell, that it should induce insurance companies to give lower risks so protected.

"In the short time in which this department has been operating," says Mr. Purtell, "I have been greatly impressed by the large percentage of fires, particularly country fires caused by lightning. During the first twenty days in which reports were received there were forty fires reported from the country districts in which the total loss was $55,000. Of these 29 were caused by lightning with a loss of over $14,000. This large percentage, nearly three fourths of the total caused by lightning, has led me to investigate a means of protection and thereby a lessening of this enormous loss.

"The essential points in the erection of a lightning rod are generally conceded to be the erection of a point at or near each gable, cupola or chimney about 5 feet high and the rod should terminate in two or more ground connections thus forming a perfect circuit. As to the ground connections it is positively essential that this part of the rod should always reach moisture, either by some device of the rod itself which will keep the ground permanently moist, or some other means to assure this end."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 10.—Miss Eva Cortlandt Palmer of New York was married yesterday at Brooklyn, the cottage of her mother, Mrs. Robert Abbe, to Angelo Sikelianos, a Greek poet. The wedding was made picturesque by the costume of the bride, who though an American girl, wore a white and jeweled sandals beneath classic Greek tunic of purple and blue, which she wore with a Greek fillet. This is a costume she has adopted for permanent use, believing it to be the most beautiful. The bridegroom also appeared in native costume. The couple will go to Greece to live after the honeymoon.

Famed Mountain Climber Will Endeavor to Find End of Mysterious Cavern in Massachusetts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Ware, Mass., Sept. 10.—"Purgatory," a cave, only a few miles from this city, many of whose mysterious by-paths have yet to be explored, is now attracting the attention of scientists all over New England because of the failure of Miss Lela S. Thompson of Boston, a well-known mountain climber, to penetrate the cavern. Miss Thompson found herself unable to proceed much beyond the entrance to the cavern, as it was too low. No one has yet had the courage to penetrate the furthest depths, for at its bottom is an unexplored subterranean lake or river. Miss Anne Peck, whose feats of mountain climbing have given her fame, will try to explore the cavern.

NEW LESSON TO ADVERTISERS

A new argument in favor of newspaper advertising comes from Des Moines by way of Waverly, Iowa. The editor of the Waverly Democrat, a weekly paper with no special interest in the fortunes of its daily neighbors, reports an illuminating conversation with a successful Des Moines merchant who said, speaking of his advertisements:

"They pay in two ways. They bring customers to our store, and they keep down our expense for clerk hire fully one half, for the ads make it possible for one clerk to do the work of two. They prime the customers with the information that they would otherwise have to get from the clerk at the expense of his time."

"Having read our announcements, in four cases out of five, a customer comes into our store knowing just what he wants and just what he will have to pay, and all the clerk has to do is to produce the goods and get the money for them. In a store that advertises properly there are very few people who come in 'just to look around,' and as a consequence business moves easily and briskly."

The merchant went on to say that several years ago, when one of his partners thought that the advertising bills were too high, the firm dropped its Saturday ads, just to see what would happen.

There was the usual rush Monday, and the partner who wanted to cut down the advertising snuffed triumphantly. But he laughs best who laughs last. The man who tells the story says that when night came everybody in the shop was worn out. Heads of departments said they must have more help.

Yet the sales were the lightest of any Monday for a year. An unusual number of the buyers did not know exactly what they wanted and the clerks' time had been consumed in helping them make their conclusions. On other Mondays their conclusions had been made in advance by reading the ads.

No doubt merchants in other towns could give similar testimony. A force in business that at once increases sales and keeps expenses down is too important to be ignored.

No comment is necessary. The argument is conclusive.

WHAT IS CAPITAL?

"Capital is simply stored up labor. There can be no capital without saving. Extravagance is the deadliest foe of capital. We have been stuporously extravagant, therefore there is a lack of capital."

This short, terse definition, from the Wall Street Journal, contains in a nut shell, not only an answer to the question, "What is capital?" but a full explanation of the cause of the disaster which has befallen it.

People who never inherit money, and they represent the masses, are inclined to envy the man who does, and they frequently overlook the fact that inherited wealth represents years of toil and stored up labor.

The old man who dies at ripe age, leaving a liberal estate, also leaves a history dated for hard work and sacrifice, during the years of accumulation.

Capital, whether blasted from the mine, extracted from the soil, or gathered from the many industries, is the product of labor. This does not mean that every hard working toiler will become a capitalist, for the world is largely tenanted by people who have no financial plans for the future, and who are content to live by the way.

Earning money is the common lot of humanity, but accumulating wealth is a different proposition, combining not only the ability to earn, but the ability to save, and invest in profitable enterprises.

It involves more than the work of the hand, and calls for more than muscular development. The man who accumulates money exercises his brain, and draws on the resources of his mind, until both brain and mind are weary.

He is not absorbed with his purpose, that time is ignored, pleasure forgotten, and every energy bent to accomplishment.

A man at 65, who had become wealthy, said, a while ago: "I have not taken a vacation in 35 years, and have forgotten how to play." He was a large manufacturer, employing hundreds of men, but commenced at the bottom of the ladder, with no better opportunities than are offered to the average workman.

Why did he go to the front? Simply because he combined with toil a purpose to accumulate, and calling on the God-given powers with which he was endowed he worked to a purpose and won.

The accumulation of great wealth is not possible, to every honest toiler, but the accumulation of a competency and a home is possible, and it should possess every man's ambition. When this is done, there will be no conflict between capital and labor, for every man will be a capitalist.

The state fair, this week, promises to be the best on record, unless the weather interferes. Milwaukee is spending money freely to make the exhibition a success.

While politics is not a part of the state fair program, many politicians from all over the state will be in attendance, and there's likely to be something doing.

Wall street may be the center of stock speculation, but it is also the financial center of the best nation on the globe, as well as one of the greatest money markets of the world.

The park commission made good in park improvements this year, and no complaint is heard over the expenditure of money. The parks never looked as well as they do today.

Secretary Taft is keeping Brynau extremely busy. The last issue of the Commonwealth is largely devoted to the general secretary.

Walter Wellman is accumulating a good deal of free advertising, without disturbing the north pole, to any large extent.

The railroads of the country are using 2,000,000 tons of steel rails per year, and are still short of trackage.

The two-cent fare law has come to stay, and railroads are adjusting themselves to meet new conditions.

Uncle Ike Stephenson will not be a candidate to succeed himself before next year.

Time to stop spending $20 a week on a $15 income.

The Difference.

The Wall street broker tears his hair and shrieks aloud in his despair. "The country's ruined," he declares. "I've got no margins for my shares." But out here in the golden West, by wind and rain and sun caressed, the farmer smiles both shy and sweet and hauls another load of wheat.

The Wall street man sells for a song his automobile, swift and strong. "The panic's here," he moans, with tears.

"It's realized our dearest fears." The Western farmer only smiles and rattles off unending miles. A darning sight faster than he ought in that same auto—which he's bought.

THE HUMOROUS SIDE OF DENTISTRY

At the Dentists.—"Do you give gas here?" asked a well-looking man who rushed into a dentist's. "We do," replied the dentist. "Does it put a fellow to sleep?" "It does," "Sound asleep, so you can't wake him up?" "Yes." "You could break his jaw or black his eye and he wouldn't feel it?" "I would know nothing about it." "How long does he sleep?" "The physical insensibility produced by inhaling the gas lasts a minute, or probably a little less." "I expect that's long enough. Got it all ready for a fellow to take?" "Yes. Take a seat in this chair and show me your teeth." "Tooth nothing?" said the excited caller, beginning rapidly to remove his coat and vest. "I want you to pull a porous plaster off my back."

This didn't happen in Dr. Richard's office, but, the questions and answers about the administration of gas are accurate and interesting to those contemplating dental work.

Dr. Richards gives gas at the desire of patient.

BERRYMAN IS CALLED TO DE KALB, ILLINOIS

Field Secretary Will go to DeKalb as General Secretary of Y. M. C. A.
Branch There.

B. F. Berryman, who has been connected with the local Y. M. C. A. as field secretary since April 1, will leave for DeKalb, Ill., Thursday to accept the position of general secretary of the association of that place. A committee of Y. M. C. A. members of De-Kalb visited Mr. Berryman here two weeks ago and the agreement was not finally reached until yesterday when Mr. Berryman was in DeKalb. The many friends of the local field secretary will be pleased to learn that he has secured a general secretaryship and will be at the head of a branch of the Y. M. C. A. though they will part with him reluctantly in his connection with the local branch. During his residence here of the past five months in the capacity of field secretary of the DeKalb branch, Mr. Berryman has acquitted himself with credit as an association worker. It was his intention when he came here as field secretary to get in touch with association work after having been out of it for seven years. The branch of the association at DeKalb is a growing one and has a bright future. The association there is still located in rented quarters but the task of erecting a building of its own has already been started by the association and will be pushed vigorously. A successful man to Mr. Berryman as field secretary has not been selected but Secretary
J. C. Kline declared this morning several available men are in sight from whom an early selection will be made.

ST. LOUIS STARS.

George Stone, Who Batted .358
Per Cent in 1906.

MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS.

Bobby Wallace, Shortstop of the Browns, Who, Though an Old Player, Is Still a Top Notch—Ranked Second to Turner Last Year.

Outfielder George Stone of the St. Louis Americans is one of the surprises of baseball. He jumped into fame at a single bound two or three years ago because of his sensational batting. He led his team in slugging, although practically an "unknown" in the major leagues, and followed up his good work by rising to the top of the entire American league in batting. This year Stone fell off in his batting, although he batted as well as ever.

While with Milwaukee, Stone was tabulated as "the slagger that made Milwaukee famous."

Stone began his professional career with the Omaha club of the Western league in 1902. He is only twenty-eight years of age and seems good for a long time in fast company, as he can hold well and is always likely to threaten to tear off a limb from an infielder with a vicious drive should the infielders come in to try to cut off his attempts at singles. Stone got the outfielder from Omaha, and while tugging the fans of the Illinois city with his excellent batting Stone was creating a big demand for his services back in the Omaha club. Omaha subsequently hauled Stone back again into its lineup.

Boston American league magnates thought Stone would be a valuable addition to the Plymouth Rocks and got him from Omaha, but there was some hitch in the plan to use Stone regularly, and he was sold to Milwaukee. It will be recalled that Stone fell upon the American association pitchers in 1904 and tore off so many blouses that he led the association with the magnificent batting average of .407.

This aroused the Boston American league management once more, and Stone was repurchased, the Milwaukee club getting a considerable sum for him. In the spring of 1905 Boston traded Stone to the Browns for outfielder Jesse Burkett.

Last year Stone led the American league with an official batting mark of .358. He played in 154 games and totaled 294 hits. His mark was better than that of Lajoie.

Bobby Wallace is another St. Louis American player whose ability ranks him with the top notches.

Wallace in his prime was undoubtedly one of the greatest of all infielders. He will put up a scintillating game at shortstop for the Browns, although he may be said to have lost some of his old time dash and enthusiasm. He is batting like the baby of old.

Wallace is an invaluable brace to the team because of his generalship.

BOBBY WALLACE.

When Wallace was secured by St. Louis the team had to pay between $10,000 and $15,000 for his release. The management did it gladly.

Wallace played in 138 games for the Browns last season, and, although he made forty-one errors, he was second to Turner, the Cleveland cotton top shortstop, who led the league in fielding. Wallace had twenty-two more put outs than the leader, but was behind Turner more than 100 assists.

Quaybodies.
"When you find yehself's taffed to mix up in other people's affairs," said Uncle Eben, "jest go to a bull game an' notice de unpopularity of de umpire."

JOE GANS DEFEATS BRITT

CALIFORNIA BOY BREAKS HIS WRIST IN FOURTH ROUND.

Colored Lightweight Champion Has All the Best of Brief But Lively Fight.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—A left swing to the body, cleverly blocked by Joe Gans, cost Jimmy Britt any chance he might have had to win the lightweight championship of the world and brought to a close five rounds of fast fighting, witnessed by a crowd of about 14,000 people at Recreation park.

The blow caught by Gans on his elbow was struck in the middle of the fourth round. It broke Britt's wrist, and though he went on again in the fifth round he was helpless in both offense and defense. It was not until this round that he informed his seconds of the mishap.

"What's the use of my going on? I can't fight. I am helpless," he said. Captain of Police Gleason was notified at the rinkside and stopped the fight. Referee Welch gave the decision to Gans.

Three doctors after an examination stated that the injury was a fracture and dislocation of the lower end of the ulna. Britt showed such intense suffering while the doctors were manipulating his wrist that the tears rolled unchecked down his cheeks.

"I was utterly helpless," he said. "I couldn't even hold up my left hand after I broke it. I had to guard for Gans' left and had no punch except with my right."

The fight while it lasted was a slugging match, but it was evident to every trained observer that Britt had no chance to win from the negro. For the first time in his life he was out-matched.

MAY END THE WIRE STRIKE.

Gompers Goes to Submit Proposition to President Small.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor left here Monday for New York to confer with President Small of the telegraphers' union concerning a proposition to settle the strike. Officials of the telegraphers' union here sent to President Small the following telegram:

"Samuel Gompers requests you to meet him at Pennsylvania station, Twenty-third street, New York city, at 6:30 Monday evening, and to bring Organizer Herman Robinson with you. Mr. Gompers will have a proposition to make to you, and we urge that you give it most serious consideration and, if possible, bring the strike to an honorable termination."

The nature of the proposition which President Gompers has to make is not known.

Prefers Death to Studies.
Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 10.—Rather than take up a course of studies in the Colorado Springs high school, Hazel Specknell, aged 18, shot and fatally injured herself Monday morning. Miss Specknell came to Colorado Springs recently from Kansas City, where her parents reside.

Host Acting for Bonaparte.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Solicitor General Hoyt has returned from a trip abroad and will be acting attorney general during the absence of Mr. Bonaparte.

Cows with Earrings.
In Belgium all cows over three months old are to be seen wearing earrings. Breeders are obliged to keep a record of all cattle raised by them, and each animal has a registered trade number, which is engraved on the ring fastened to its ear.

Rare Index.
How rarely do these three things meet—a man who wants something, is fitted for it, and any great number of persons who think he ought to have it.—Judge.
